Take Your Child to Work Day

An 8-year-old went to the office with her father on Take Your Child to Work Day.

When she started to cry, the staff gathered around as her father asked her what was wrong.

She sobbed as she said, “Daddy, where are all the clowns you said you worked with?”

Free! Gorilla and Bird

Through a National Library of Medicine grant, the Piedmont library is able to offer free copies of July's book of the month, Gorilla and the Bird, a memoir of mental health and a mother's love.

We'll meet at the library at noon on July 18th to discuss this difficult topic. But mostly we'll eat...because...food, so bring your lunch and a smile and let's chat about madness!

Pushing the Limits

Go to the library Thursday, July 25th, at 6:00 p.m. for the second installment of the second iteration of our fabulous series, Pushing the Limits. This month's topic is Heritage: what do we leave future generations? How do we create a strong future? First, we'll watch a short 15-minute video, then speaker Neil Garrison will lead a discussion of the book Behold the Dreamers, about one family's quest to grow a promising future. And we'll enjoy Frito chili pies, because we can.

Dog-Eared Book Club

The library's brand new summer treat, the Dog-Eared Book Club, meets for its second gathering on July 31st at noon. This All Ages, All Levels, Doesn't-Matter-if-you-Read-the-Book-or-Not group will talk about Andrew Clements' seminal work, Frindle, an inspired treatise on teaching children about how words work. Great for all ages with plenty of room for discussion. We look forward to bringing our lunch and chatting while we eat. (Librarians love to eat.)

Family Summer Reading Nights

Family Summer Reading Nights wrap up in July with two more occasions for fun. July 11th we portray demi-gods and goddesses, an homage to Percy Jackson, the Rick Riordan book series. We'll have crafts and games, forcing the family to work together and have some fun, then head outside for competitive Capture the Flag.

Then, on the 18th, we will feature the Universe of Nerds game night, with tables full of cards and dice to really unwrap our competitive edge.

Plus, did I mention the library provides dinner on both evenings? Again...food. We're eaters who happen to read. See you Thursday nights!

Piedmont Garden Club

Piedmont Garden Club meets for its quarterly gathering July 20th at 9 a.m.

It's tough, gardening with so much wind and prairie clay, but we make it work. July heat makes it even more of a pain in the...I mean, challenging...makes gardening more challenging.

Come with questions and tips to trade with like-minded fellow flower lovers. Conversation is random but always fun.

See you soon in the library community room!

For questions about events on this page, call the library at 373-9018

The summer reading program at the Piedmont Public Library is quickly coming to a close. On Tuesday, July 2nd, there will be come & go activities from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
